Setting Up Curfew Controls

Youngsters who have been dodging across city borders to do late-hour carousing in the county's unincorporated areas as of Tuesday will find new grasping fingers at the end of the law's long arm.

The County Board of Supervisors adopted an ordinance setting up wartime curfew controls, aimed at preventing such episodes as the Dunes Beach incident.

Under the terms of the new curfew, both children under 18 and their parents are held liable for violation of the ordinance. A maximum penalty of $500 fine and six months in the county jail is provided.

The curfew, on in all parts of the county during the war, lapsed in the unincorporated areas a year ago. Last December, Pro-

Hold RC Boy
For Stealing
Purses in SF

A Redwood City youth who fled after being allowed out of the juvenile home to see his sick mother was picked up Tuesday in San Francisco after a purse-snatching spree.

John Gonzales, 16, of 754 17th Ave., was held for return to the California Youth Authority, to which he was due to return when he escaped.

Gonzales and Maurice Connelly, 22, of San Francisco, were trapped a half hour after they had terrorized five women whose purses they stole or attempted to steal.

The San Mateo County Probation Dept. reported that Gonzales was paroled by the CYA after he was committed for stealing a car in San Francisco. While on parole, he stole another car, was arrested and was being held for recommitment.

On July 10, the boy was placed in the custody of his father, to go visit his mother, who was seriously ill. He was to return the next day, but he left his parents the same night and had been missing ever since.

Gonzales, Connelly and a third youth robbed four women of a total of $21.50, but were beaten off by a fifth woman.

The pair was trapped in a restaurant, after 18 police cars had surrounded the block. The third youth escaped.

Officers stated that the pair also confessed stealing two cars and committing seven market burglaries, four of them in Daly City.

John Demartini, 21, San Quentin parolee, was captured after ramming the stolen patrol car into a concrete pillar at the end of a three-mile chase. He was identified as one of the purse-snatching gang.

BELMONT POLICE CHIEF—O. Walter Lindholm, shown viewing a trusted weapon, this week took over as chief of police in Belmont, replacing Stanley Botto, recently discharged by the Belmont City Council on charges of inefficiency. Lindholm, 48, today said that he hopes to streamline the Belmont Police Dept. as much as possible. He said he hoped to have a top rate law enforcement agency in Belmont. The new chief is a graduate of the FBI Police Academy in San Francisco and served for five years on the San Francisco Police Dept. He also served three years in the Oakland Police Dept. and one year in Walnut Creek. Lindholm has purchased a home in Belmont and will move to the city in the near future.

Student Vets
Must File
Certificate

Floyd D. Granger, veterans service officer Wednesday urged veterans who plan on entering school this fall under either the state or federal program, to file now for their certificate of eligibility.

By filing early, veterans can be assured of receiving their first subsistence checks with a minimum of delay. Those veterans who do not see their certificates prior to registration may have to pay their own fees for tuition, books, and other materials Granger stated.

Under the state program, an authorization certificate, which defers the students' fees, cannot be issued until the veterans' certificate of eligibility is approved by the Department of Veterans Affairs and his educational application is on file with the department.

Certificates of eligibility may be applied for through the veterans service office located at the San Mateo County Court-house, Redwood City. Complete copies of discharge must be submitted when filing.

Granger said he can assist veterans in filing for either state or federal educational programs.

California Jockey Club
Sued for Blasting

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Garibaldi, owners of property at 413 and 415 Old County Rd., Beresford, Wednesday filed suit against the California Jockey Club and Richard Peterson for $4880.

The charge that blasting for excavation by the jockey club has damaged the plaster, walls, roofs and floors of their houses.

Officials Outline Plans To Complete Junipero Serra

Junipero Serra Hwy. completion plans are now under way and officials of the project hope to see fulfillment of the plans in the near future.

Andrew J. Gallagher, secretary of the board of directors, said yesterday in a conference with other officials of the proposed project that steps are being taken to finance the completion of Serra Hwy. from Sneath Ln. to Millbrae Ave., Millbrae.

Construction of this road is a three-way project of the state of California, San Francisco and San Mateo counties. When completed it will run from the county line of San Francisco at Daly City to Millbrae Ave. in Millbrae at which point it will join in with Highway No. 101.

Difficulties in procuring the needed properties for the highway necessitated in its temporary ending at Sneath Ln. Four and two tenths miles are to be added to the present six and one-half miles which have been completed.

The cost of completing the balance of the road is an estimated $1,500,000. Ninety-five per cent of the needed right of way has been secured to date.

The completed six and a half miles cost a total of $1,233,512.36. Of this amount the state of California contributed $373,672.66, San Francisco $949,479.84 and San Mateo $167,541.50.

When completed the road will stretch a total of 10½ miles. From its present temporary ending at Sneath Ln. to Millbrae Ave. in Millbrae the highway will follow the natural topography of the surrounding terrain and with its center strip cultivated and put into various shrubberies it will add to the beauty of the area.

Conferences with the state board of public works, highway commission, Harry Ross, controller city and county of San Francisco, Thomas Brooks, chief administrative officer of San Francisco and Mayor Robinson have been authorized by the board and directors hope to obtain the go-ahead signal from state officials by borrowing funds or issuance of revenue bonds.

It was pointed out by Secretary Gallagher that none of the money obtained would add to the local tax burden as all the financing comes out of gasoline tax funds.

Width of the highway is 152 feet including a 26-foot center strip. The construction of a center strip along with the boulevard is being done to consummate a promise, given by the directors of the program to the people of San Mateo, that this project would be so constructed as to enhance the natural scenic beauty of the countryside.

There are two lanes on each side of the center strip with enough leeway on both sides to provide for future lanes if needed. The road has been designed to meet any emergency that may arise, even for military purposes. It is the hope of the directors that this highway, when completed, will serve as the main artery of travel through the heart of San Mateo County.

When the road is terminated at Millbrae Ave. the board of directors, looking toward the future, visualize the continued development of this highway to as far south as Santa Cruz. This, however, would be up to San Mateo and Santa Clara Counties, as the authority of Joint Highway Commission No. 10 ends at Millbrae Ave. in Millbrae. Members of the board are Thomas L. Hickey, San Mateo County supervisor, president; Dewey Mead, treasurer, and Gallagher, secretary.

In charge of construction of the road is James B. West, resident engineer and superintendent of maintenance.

William H. Stine
Files for Divorce

William H. Stine, whose three young children were taken from what officers called the "filthiest home conditions," Wednesday filed suit for divorce, asking for custody of the children.

Charging his wife, Betty Jo Stine, with extreme cruelty, Stine's complaint stated that she is "not a fit and proper person to have custody of the children."

The children, Margaret Beth, 3, Sally Aann, 2, and Willa Rae, 1, were taken from their Sharp Park home by the father and Dep. Sheriff John Hosford Saturday night. Two scrubbing at Community Hospital were necessary to get the children clean. Asst. Probation Officer Anthony Lovoi said.

The couple married in Yuma May 17, 1944. The case involving the children is scheduled for next Monday's juvenile court.

Plan Improvements
At Kensington

City Atty. Juthbert B. Currie was instructed by councilmen Monday night to draw up a resolution of preliminary determination to construct street improvements and sewers in the South Kensington Square subdivision.

City Engineer Glenn Jain had advised council that 69 per cent of the property owners there had signed a petition requesting sewers and 53 per cent had signed a petition requesting streets. He pointed out that it would be cheaper for the owners if both jobs were done at the same time but that he didn't think it was advisable to start any job where at least 60 per cent of the owners had not signed petitions.

MP School District Votes to Boost Tax Level

A boost in the school tax above the present 90-cent level for the Menlo Park district was voted last night by representatives of the Menlo Park School Dist. at a meeting of the board of trustees at the Central School.

Exact amount up to the statutory limit of $2 per $100 assessment was left to the board, according to a suggestion made by Irving Kesterson.

The decision will be made soon in order to get it before the board of supervisors meeting in August, George Angus, president of the board said.

It is estimated that by raising the tax to the $2 limit $85,000 could be raised in the ensuing year. Other funds for the school can be obtained from the resale of $15,000 of school bonds that will mature in July, 1949, and another $55,000 can be obtained by again bonding the district to the limit which has increased $900,000 assessed valuation since the $375,000 bond issue in January. It is estimated that $90,000 will remain from the bond issue after the Encinal School is completed.

David Ingram Jr. suggested to the board that school facilities after the completion of Encinal School be used to the limit, and the building of the new school wait until Menlo Park outgrows these facilities. Objection to this suggestion is that some children will have long distances to go to school and that others will have to be shifted from the school attended last year to another one, Melville Homfeld, superintendent of schools, said. Meanwhile condemnation proceedings continue for a new school site on Elder Ave.

If the building of the school is put off funds can be raised more gradually, Ingram said.

A large group last night pressed for the immediate building of the new school on the grounds that the number of children in the district is growing rapidly. Last year daily attendance totaled 700 and next year Homfeld estimates a daily attendance of 840. A petition signed by 250 urging immediate construction of a new school was presented to the board July 7.

Troubles Mount for Ex-Con, Alleged Partner in Burglary

Troubles mounted Wednesday for Walter Dutch Heim, ex-convict, and his alleged partner in crime, Carlton C. King, who were arrested in San Bruno early Sunday morning as narcotics burglars.

The duo was brought before Judge George Edwards in San Bruno municipal court Tuesday where their bail was increased from $10,000, set previously, to $20,000 each.

At the same time, Clyde W. Carpenter, inspector for the California State Division of Narcotic Enforcement, seized the 1941 eight-cylinder Pontiac automobile of which Heim claimed ownership.

The state will immediately start confiscation proceedings to secure ownership of the car on charges that the narcotics were found in it.

It was as they ran toward this car early Sunday morning that Heim and King were arrested by Sgt. Adolph Fernandes and Officer Dee Barker for burglary of narcotics from the Mills Park pharmacy in San Bruno.

In addition to these woes, authorities say they will ask that Heim be given a life sentence under the habitual criminal act. His record shows, according to police, that he has served terms in various reformatories, state prisons, and county jails.

Charges against the two are burglary, possession of narcotics tools and possession of narcotics.

SSF 'Cyclist
Sues for $50,000

A South San Francisco man, injured May 29, when the motorcycle he was riding was involved in an accident, Wednesday filed suit for $50,000 in superior court here.

The suit was filed by Barney Baudendistel against Jessie H. Kitchum, driver of the car involved in the collision. Baudendistel was riding tandem on the motorcycle piloted by Edward B. Jaworsky, who was booked for felony drunk driving.

The accident occurred on El Camino Real in San Bruno. Baudendistel suffered a fractured leg, fractured ankle, bruises and shock.

Rolison Predicts RC Will Be Largest Peninsula City

City Mgr. Ernest A. Rolison this week predicted that Redwood City will soon be the largest city on the Peninsula. But he warned that the rapid growth of the community is overburdening its utilities.

The city manager addressed the Redwood City Exchange Club as guest of City Councilman E. H. Holmquist.

In the question period which followed his address he was asked why the Emerald Lake area suffered from inadequate water pressure and dirty water.

The city manager replied that the water discoloration is caused by a growth in the Hetch Hetchy mains, now the only source of city water. He then recommended that Emerald Lake form its own water district.

The storage and distribution lines there are inadequate, he admitted, but said the city has no money with which to rebuild the system. He estimated that the city was losing $8000 a year in the present service to Emerald Lake, and said the city could not be expected to bond itself for improvements outside its limits.

"In effect, we are engaging in private business outside the city," he said, "and we haven't the money to finance needed improvements."

He pointed out that Emerald Lake is now organizing a sewer district and he recommended that a water district be made part of the plan.

Meanwhile, the city is listing needed improvements to the water system in priority projects. He predicted that between $75,000 and $100,000 would be available next year, and promised that the Edgewood Park low-pressure problem would receive early attention.

The water system will show an adequate overall return because of higher rates, but the rates are still lower than those charged in San Francisco and in nearby Peninsula communities for the same water, Rolison said.

Generally speaking, the public utilities were designed for a city of 8000 people and have not enlarged with the times.

Construction of a $700,000 sewage treatment plant will solve part of the city's sewerage problem, but he warned that much additional work must be done to enlarge mains to adequate size. A sewer use tax, charged to property owners who use the sewers, will retire bonds and pay for operations.

The recreation department has spent $110,000 of $224,000 in bonds available for improvements. It has acquired Community Park, has erected a recreation building and is improving playgrounds.

City streets comprise 175 miles, and money for maintenance will be approximately doubled in the new fiscal year, Rolison said.

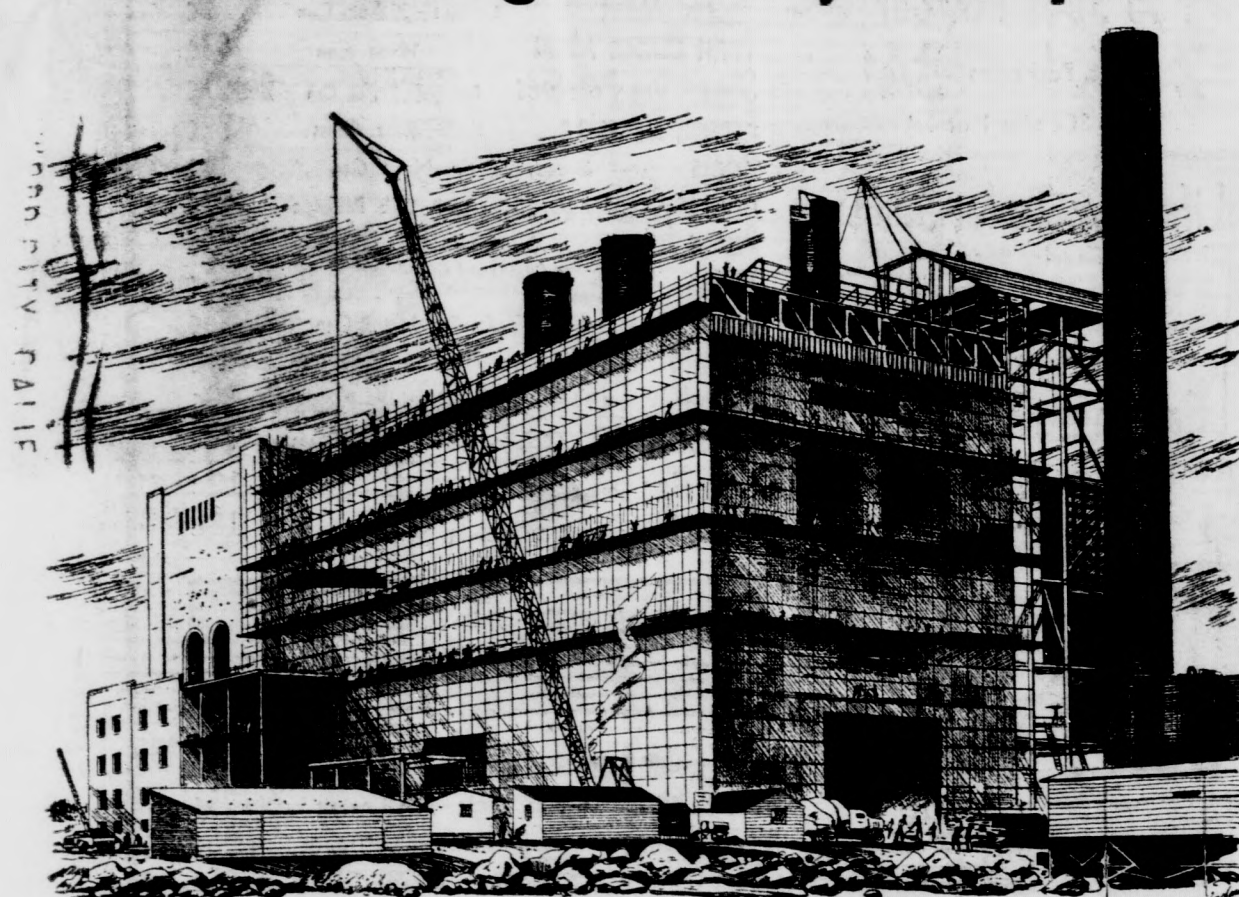

The collector's office will take in about a million dollars this year, the city manager predicted. Building permits issued in the last fiscal year equalled half of the city's total assessed value in 1936.

The fire department, with 20 fulltime and 14 call men, answered 371 alarms last year. Fire losses: $330,617. The police department with 22 men covered 200,452 miles on patrol, Rolison reported.

1000 men rush expansion of
P.G. and E.'s greatest power plant

Near the lapping waters of the Bay at Hunters Point in San Francisco, P.G. and E.'s Station "P" is rapidly growing from a good sized power plant into a giant with an electric generating capacity of 360,000 horsepower. When the new power goes on the line this winter, Station "P" will be the largest generating plant on P.G. and E.'s vast system. And it's just part of our postwar construction program which is adding nearly 2,000,000 horsepower to our power supply.

We put salt water to work at Station "P". Two tunnels, six by nine feet, will pour 230,000,000 gallons of Bay water daily through the plant to cool the steam from the turbine-generators. That's nearly three times as much water as San Francisco uses every day.

When Station "P" hits its maximum output, it will produce six times as much electrical power as it does today. Still other plants, both steam and hydro, are on the way to provide more power for Northern and Central California homes, farms and factories.

Work never stops on our power-building program

Simplicity of Grooming Is Key to Wedding Day Charm for the Bride-Elect

BY BETTY CLARKE

AP Newsfeatures Beauty Editor

There's something about a bride... whether she wears blue or white, diamonds or rhinestones. A girl about to be married hardly needs to be told that her wedding day charm is the simplicity of her grooming.

Most girls, no matter how flamboyant their choice of costumes for street or ordinary formal wear, choose only the most ladylike fashions in which to say their "I Do's."

This year there is a "new look" in bridal headdresses, as in everything else. But still simplicity reigns whether the bride selects a romantic Spanish mantilla or a tulle bonnet in which to make her vows.

Be sure to select a headdress which will complement your hairdo whether short, medium or long.

Hair is shorter than it was during last year's bridal season. But few brides want a really short hairdo which may be completely concealed by the veil. Although the hair should not be too long and trailing down below the neckline of the wedding dress, there should be enough of the hair showing to complete the look of femininity.

Department President Pays Official Visit

Alice Johnson of Oakland, department president, paid her official visit this week to the Geraldine E. Frisbie Tent No. 76, Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War.

Other visiting officials were Clara M. Blackford of San Francisco, department secretary; Mrs. Frances Reed of Oakland, president of the Jennie L. Hogan Tent, and Mrs. Mary Bowman of Modesto.

It was announced at the meeting that John W. Smith, department commander of the Grand Army, celebrated his 106th birthday on July 13.

All bears are not vicious. The American black bear is no more dangerous to the hunter than a hog of the same size would be.

"Delightful hot weather fare" might describe 'Home Chat' which will play for the next two weekends at Hillbarn Summer Theater," according to Robert Brauns, director. "The Noel Coward comedy, which possesses all of the lighthearted charm of 'Hay Fever' and 'Private Lives,' is an obscure one which has been seldom seen in America."

Like the popular production of "Hay Fever" at Hillbarn some years ago, "Home Chat" will be centrally staged, with the audience seated around the acting arena like spectators at a circus, according to Mr. Brauns.

An all Peninsula cast includes

Jean Levinson, Myna Hughes, Tom Simnett, William Kenney and Ann Kelly from San Francisco; Norma Gruman and Helen Whittlesey from Burlingame; Viola Duncan from San Carlos; and George Young from Redwood City.

Since all seats are reserved, tickets may be secured by writing Hillbarn Summer Theater, P.O. Box 543, San Mateo, enclosing a self-addressed stamped envelope. Reservations are not accepted by telephone.

Book Section Of PBWC Meets With Ellen Brown

Members of the book review section of the Redwood City Business and Professional Women's Club met last night at the home of Ellen Brown.

"Throw Me a Bone" by Eleanor Lothrop was discussed by Vera Griffith and Mary Thorne reported on "The Enchanted" by Martin Flavin.

The next meeting of the PBWC will be a potluck dinner at the home of Eleanor Faure, 1605 Hopkins Ave., on Wednesday evening at 6:30. Members may contact Olive Kogelschatz at Emerson 6-0888 for information about arrangements.

Use of light engine oil and a fully-charged battery will reduce winter starting trouble to a minimum.
